Website Report

- Performance
- Best Practices
- Accessibility
- SEO ranking

The website is fully optimized and uses best practices as well as server side rendering the data received from the backend. According to Google's performance tracking tools Coinscope is outperforming its competitors and the developers have demonstrated blockchain experience by creating their own NFT marketplace and integrating Web3 and Metamask payments.

Roadmap

Roadmap was found on the website and is displayed above. All milestones are on track so far and they are heading to the next phase of their plan.

The project has delivered already a series of high value features (Audits, NFT, Airdrops, mobile application, real time price tracking, charts and portfolio). They are utilising their ecosystem by the use of their BEP-20 Token. They are planning to hire more people over the next months to expand and scale organically.

Team & Whitepaper

The team behind the Coinscope project has created a legal entity and a registered company as it will be shown in the next sections.

The team that created the Token is the same team behind Coinscope platform over the past 8 months. They created this token after many requests from the community.

Coinscope team focuses on explaining their platform's ecosystem and how those tokens will be used to receive discounts from promotions. They thoroughly explain their unique features (NFT, Audits etc..).

The team presents a competitor analysis using one of the most popular analysis tools (Semrush) and demonstrates how Coinscope has grown to surpass its competitors over the last months. The work that they did with Auditing SQUID and exposing their dangers and vulnerabilities was mentioned by BBC and Financial Times.

The whitepaper is a professional representation of a project's vision and ecosystem.

Your Score

Coinscope is an established company with more than 8 months of operations and world wide recognition. The owners behind the platform are also backing the Token. The smart contract scored perfectly and was produced by the project's engineering experts. Liquidity will be locked for 2 years, and there are burn and auto generating liquidity Tokenomics to reward holders. Passive burn on each transaction will work as a deflation mechanism to also increase the holder's value. The whitepaper is very professional and attention to detail is impeccable. The roadmap seems very promising and the community is growing.
